Beauty Therapists

As a beauty therapist you will be selected by us to specialize as either a skin care specialist, body and detox specialist or a holistic therapist. All of the courses require you to have good sales skills and a high level of communication skills, to enable you to book in guests for tailored services and advise how to care for themselves at home.

Body specialists learn the award winning Parisian treatment called Ionithermie, this body cleansing and firming treatment is designed to tighten and tone the body, as well as providing a range of health benefits through detoxification, and is available to both men and women.

As a skin care specialist, you will learn how to perform the first class La Therapie facials using advanced glycolic skin care products designed to deliver ultimate results visible after just one treatment.

Elemis is an innovative product house. Using advanced scientific technology combined with natural organic ingredients they deliver outstanding results both to the skin and body. Some services available range from Deep Tissue massages, muscle-relieving body wraps and Japanese facials for men and women, excellent to firm and repair sun damaged and sensitive skin.
